From Principal’s Desk

I welcome to all participants in One Day Interdisciplinary National Conference on Research Methodology on 28th November 2015.

The sky is the limit for the research in different fields. It is the result of man’s deep urge to learn, to know, to satisfy his thirst for knowledge about this world. It involves strenuous effort, sincere application to the subject and tremendous patients. A research aspirant in higher education has three basic responsibilities viz. teaching, research and extension work. Besides teaching and extension activities, every teacher in higher education is supposed to undertake research. A large number of teacher working in higher educational intuitions especially in colleges, engages themselves significantly in teaching and are in significantly involved in research work, due to lack of research environment.

This scenario all over the country whatever little research has been conducted is methodologically weak. This workshop will help the participant to acquaint themselves with the dynamic trends of research methodology which may shape their research work in the right direction. Thus, the present event will make an attempt to provide some practical training in research methodology which will enable us to improve the quality of research.

I would like to mention here that we are sincerely publishing an online peer reviewed proceeding, bearing ISSN number, of the research papers of all participants.

I wish this event will cover all entire aspects of research methodology of new trends in quality sustaining, enhancement and assurance. I would like to thank our chief patron, Hon Bhai Kishanraoji Deshmukh, his wise leadership as a vital factor in the ongoing development of this organization.

About the Conference

The theme of Conference was Research Methodology in interdisciplinary. A research aspirant in higher education has three bases responsibilities viz. teaching, researching and extension work. Besides teaching and extension activities, every teacher in higher education is supposed to undertake research. A large number of teachers working in higher educational institutions especially in college, engage themselves significantly in research work, due to lack of research environment. This scenario is over the country. Whatever little research has been conducted is methodologically weak. This conference helped the participants to acquaint themselves with the dynamic trends of research methodology which may shape their research work in the right direction. More than 100 participants including Principals, Eminent academicians, Professors, Research Scholars have actively participated in this entire day event. In this conference 72 faculty members and 35 research scholars and a large number of student were made aware of the basics of research methodology. Eight five selected research papers were published in peer reviewed online proceeding. Three sessions were conducted. The event was successfully co-ordinated by Mr. M. M. Bidre.

This conference made an attempt to provide some practical training in research methodology, which will able us to improve the quality of research. Keeping this in view the following objectives have been set.
Sub Themes

- Research Design
- Meaning and Importance of Research Methodology
- Writing Research Paper
- Recent Trends in Modern Research
- Identifying and defining of Research Problems
- Data Analysis through statistical tools
- Hypothesis and its testing
- Preparation of Synopsis

Objectives of conference

- To identify the research topic, selection of variables and important ethical considerations
- To sensitize the research on basic issues related to research methodology

Moreover he also conveyed the objectives of the conference. He said that the main concern of this conference was to discuss the various research methodologies and its implementation in an

Then chief guest Hon’ble Dr. Ganesh A. Hegde, released online peer reviewed conference proceeding on this occasion.

Dr. N. V. Kalyankar in his inaugural address, lauded and congratulated the principal and organizing committee for hosting a one day national conference in the rural area, like Chakur on a contemporarily theme.
Session –I: Meaning and Importance of Research Methodology

The talk was followed by the key note address of Dr. Ganesh A. Hegde. He was present as a chief guest at the Inaugural Ceremony and he certainly assured quality enhancement of higher education. He said the scope of research had increased and the area of research has been increasing day by day and therefore teachers should work hard. He thoroughly guided the participants on how to write SSR report. He further said that research scholar must complete his research within the frame work given by the university. During his key note speech mentioned that research should not have limitations. He also focused on accreditation and reaccreditation of the colleges.

In the presidential address, Adv. P. D. Kadam shed light on the history of research. He said that there are many fields of research. He beautifully explained the recent trends in research methodology. Finally Dr. S. S. Jadhav, member of Organizing Committee and head of the Department of Commerce, thanked everyone for attending the conference.

The inaugural ceremony was followed by first session on one of the sub themes of the conference: “Preparation of Synopsis”. The session started with a welcome address by Mr. M. M. Bidre coordinator of the Conference. He briefly introduced the theme and sub-themes and aims of the conference. He said that the main objective of conference is to provide plate-form for academicians, faculty and research /scholars to discuss the research methodologies and its applications in research. He hoped that the conference will focus on various strategies followed by researcher during research.
The conference will encourage the researcher. The event will consist of invited talks by eminent experts in their relative subjects and paper presentation by participants.

The session was chaired by Dr. S. M. Rokade (Director, BCUD, Gondwana University, Gadchiroli). He discussed the importance of preparation of Hypothesis and the role of researchers to find the solutions of problem at the grass root level. He discussed various issues connected with Hypothesis and its testing and stressed upon simple and cost effective solutions for possible implementation. He suggested that proper testing of Hypothesis is necessary to complete the research work. He focused on the meaning and importance of research methodology and said the use of research should reach the bottom level of the society. The researcher should think that how his research will benefit the common man. Research emerges from problems and new ways come to mind. Mr. R. J. Tagadullewar, Head of the Marathi Department, presented the vote of thanks.

Session II : Tools of Research

The second session i.e. post lunch session was chaired by Prof. Dr. V. N. Laturkar, Professor, school of management, SRTM University, Nanded. Dr. R. S. Dhanushwar welcomed her by offering a bouquet and memento. She delivered a speech on the tools of research and how research should adhere to aims, objectives and hypothesis. She also focused on how to use reference in research paper and thesis. She strongly emphatically told that objectives of research should be limited.
Session III: Recent Trends in Modern Research

The last technical session was chaired by hon’ble Dr. S. B. Kshirsagar, Principal, DPB Dayanand College of Education, Solapur. He was felicitated by Mr. S. T. Jadhav, member of organizing committee. Dr. S. B. Kshirsagar talked on the recent trends in modern research and quality of research. According to him, quality has utmost importance in research. He said that research overcomes many problems and it can control situations and make human life happy.
